ABOUT THE COMPANY: Seaflora Skincare

Here I am happy to share my honest review of Seaflora skincare.

Let's start off with the basics – Seaflora is a Canadian skincare brand that's making waves for all the right reasons. Organic, eco-friendly, sustainable, and mostly vegan, their commitment to ethical practices is commendable. Once exclusive to spas, they've opened their doors to direct consumer sales, and I must say, they offer 10/10 products.

I will note that while most of their products are plant-based, their Deep Sea, Supreme Seaweed and Seabright moisturizer are not, as they contain collagen. Price-wise, I would consider these products to be on the higher end. However, I think it is worth it due to the fact that the products are Canadian-made, spa quality and sustainable.

CLEAN INGREDIENTS: Nourishing Your Skin, Naturally

When it comes to skincare, I value transparency. Seaflora gets it right with a commitment to clean beauty. No parabens, no mineral oil, no questionable ingredients – just a promise of natural goodness that's safe for your skin. It's the kind of assurance we all seek in our skincare routine.

MY FAVOURITE PRODUCTS: Iridaea Exfoliator and Potent Sea Kelp Facial Masque
Among the products I tried from Seaflora, the Iridaea exfoliator and the potent sea kelp facial masque truly stood out. This is quite funny to me, as I just had sample sizes of these products. However, when I used them, I could immediately tell that they were spa-quality products and lovely to use. The subtle sea-inspired scent is a pleasant touch, and the immediate skin smoothness these products provide is everything that I am looking for in skincare products.

OTHER PRODUCTS I TRIED: A Comprehensive Dive into Seaflora's Range
Exploring the Seaflora range, I incorporated the Sea Therapy Facial Cleanser, Sea Splash Toning Essence, and Sea Radiance Facial Moisturizer into my daily routine for a few weeks now to really see how I liked them. I am happy to share that the synergy of these three products left my skin feeling refreshed, clean and happy, without being irritated.

Sampling the Iridaea exfoliator and potent sea kelp facial masque (mentioned above) was a bonus that really added to the overall positive experience.

SUSTAINABILITY: Harvesting Beauty with a Green Footprint

Seaflora's commitment to sustainability is of course worth noting. Through hand harvesting and mindful practices, they minimize carbon emissions. Whether collecting their ingredients from inter-tidal zones or utilizing efficient boat engines, the brand is making strides toward a greener beauty industry.

Thanks for checking out my honest review of Seaflora skincare products. Overall, I am confident when I say that Seaflora offers more than just skincare; it's a conscious choice for those who value honesty, quality, and sustainability in their beauty regimen. And a bonus is that it is made in Canada! Dive into using Seaflora's products and let your skin embrace the benefits of pure, natural ingredients, responsibly.
